

CONDON IDENTIFIES HAUPTMANN AS MYSTERIOUS "JOHN" TO WHOM HE PAID $50,000 RANSOM FOR RETURN OF THE LINDBERGH BABY ON FATEFUL NIGHT OF APRIL 2, 1932

Defendant Smiles Contemptuously As Aged Educator Names Him As Recipient—One of Several Who Have Thus Far Pointed Accusing Finger at the German Carpenter

COURT ROOM, FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 9—Dr. John F. "Jafsie" Condon, today from the witness stand, identified Bruno Richard Hauptmann as the mysterious "John" to whom he paid $50,000 ransom for the return of the Lindbergh baby on the night of April 2, 1932.

Questioning Condon concerning his trip to the Bronx Cemetery where he paid over the $50,000, Attorney General David T. Wilentz asked:

"Who is this John to whom you paid the money?"

"John" is Bruno Richard Hauptmann," replied Condon. Hauptmann smiled contemptuously.

Condon gave his age as 74.

Wilentz wanted to know where, during those years, Condon had lived, and the Lindbergh intermediary replied, "In the most beautiful borough in the world, the Bronx."

Defense Attorney Edward J. Reilly asked that this remark be stricken from the record, but he was overruled.

Q. "You have lived your entire life in the greater city of New York?"

A. "Yes."

Q. "You are called 'Doctor'?"

A. "Yes."

Q. "What are your degrees?"

Doctor Condon explained he has a Bachelor of Arts degree from City College of New York, and a Master of Arts degree.

Condon told of giving the money to "John" and identified "John" as Hauptmann.

The defendant, sitting about 12 feet from him, looked very pale and a bit wan.

Q. (by Wilentz)—And did you give this money to someone?

A. "Yes."

Q. "Who?"

A. "John."

Q. "And who is John?"

A. "John is Bruno Richard Hauptmann."

"Jafsie" spoke each word of Hauptmann's name clearly and emphatically. Hauptmann blinked and a faint smile contemptuously curled about his lips. The Court room seethed with excitement.

Condon then began to identify the various ransom notes he received before the ransom was paid. Wilentz took the first note Condon received and read it to the jury. It was the letter in which the kidnapper instructed Condon how to construct the box for the ransom money and warned him against calling the police. It enclosed the letter to Colonel Lindbergh in which the kidnapper said he had agreed upon Condon as the intermediary.

"When you received this letter what did you do?" Wilentz asked.

"I came home late that night," Condon said. "I found the letter when I came home that night. As soon as I read it I thought it rather strange. I was rather pleased—pleased that I should be so honored."

Jafsie did not elaborate on this statement. He stated he then went to a restaurant to meet Al Reich his pugilist friend. I talked to a certain gentleman at Hopewell, on the telephone. Condon stated he did not use the telephone in his own home because he never used it on any matters which might disturb his family. Condon said he journeyed to Hopewell that night as the result of the conversation.

"Where did you sleep at Hopewell that night?" Wilentz asked.

Condon electrified the court room when he replied in a dramatic tone, "I slept in the baby's nursery."

"Who prepared that room?"

"Colonel Lindbergh."

Condon testified that after his conversation with Lindbergh and Colonel Henry Breckenridge, he returned to New York and inserted an advertisement in a New York newspaper.

Wilentz showed him a newspaper containing a classified advertisement saying:

"I accept, money is ready, Jafsie."

Condon testified that that was the ad. he had inserted.

He then told of receiving a letter in answer to the advertisement.

Wilentz handed him a yellowed letter. Condon scrutinized it closely and said:

LEGISLATURE AWAITS NEW GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

Expected to Reveal His Solutions of the Economic Problems

TO SPEAK ON TUESDAY

By Sydney H. Elges
I. N. S. Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Jan. 9—(INS)—Marking time until they reconvene next Monday night, Pennsylvania's legislators today awaited with interest Governor-elect George H. Earle's inaugural address, his first official communication to the lawmakers.

In that important message the new Governor was expected to reveal his solutions for the many financial, social and economic problems confronting the Legislature, problems termed the most momentous since Civil War days.

While the Governor-elect busied himself with preparation of the address, to be delivered upon his inauguration at noon next Tuesday, Speaker Wilson G. Sarig of the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives and his committee continued their conferences here to choose the many committees for the lower chamber.

With committees appointed, the House will be organized and prepared to begin its work in earnest next Monday night when the first flood of bills pours into the Legislature.

Brightly hued flags and bunting were unfurled in Harrisburg as the capitol prepared for the inauguration of the first Democratic governor in four decades, an event that will momentarily double the population of the city, bringing thousands of visitors, including many of national prominence.

Most eagerly awaited of the new Governor's recommendations was his plan to raise $225,000,000 in new taxation to balance the state budget for the biennium ending in June, of 1937. He was expected to adopt suggestions submitted by the committee he named to make a study of the state finances under the chairmanship of Dr. Luther A. Harr, Secretary of Banking-designate.

The incoming governor was expected to submit to the Legislature a plan to give the state a new constitution as recommended by the committee headed by Attorney General-designate Charles J. Margiotti.

He may also lay before the legislature the broad outlines of a social legislative program as recommended by a sub-committee of his cabinet.

The new chief executive has indicated he will be guided by recommendations of the committees he has named to make special studies of the larger problems facing the Commonwealth. These recommendations he will transmit to a politically divided Legislature, the lower chamber Democratic and the Senate Republican, with a plea that they be enacted as speedily as possible.

KILLS FOUR IN FAMILY

MT. VERNON, Kentucky, Jan. 9—A fugitive, hunted since last October, suddenly appeared at his father-in-law's home at midnight last night and killed four members of the family, seriously wounded another and slightly wounded another. A neighbor man and his wife also were killed and are believed by police to have been victims of his gun.

George Collett is being sought as the slayer of the six. The one member of the family not dead or near death, stumbled into police headquarters and told of the midnight massacre.

The dead: Mrs. George Collett, wife of the murderer; William Helton, father of Mrs. Collett; Mrs. William Helton, mother of Mrs. Collett; Julian Borders, a neighbor, Mrs. Julian Borders; a brother-in-law of George Collett. Those wounded are Collett's sister, who is near death and other brother-in-law shot through the shoulder.

DOYLESTOWN FIREMEN ANSWERED 31 CALLS

Only Twelve of Total Number of Alarms Were in the Borough

FEWER GRASS FIRES

DOYLESTOWN, Jan. 9—Members of the Doylestown Fire Company were called out exactly thirty-one times last year to combat fires either in the borough or in the vicinity.

This record was revealed when local firemen tabulated statistics kept on a chart in the fire house.

While most of the fires were minor in importance and loss, one of the outstanding of the past year was that at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Allen H. Moore, East State street, January 27, when the basement and part of the first floor were gutted. The firemen answered two alarms at the Moore residence that day, according to their records.

There were five grass fires—a decided decrease—and seven chimney fires, none of which proved very disastrous. The first fire in 1934 was the burning of a chair in a house on Garden Lane on January 4.

Up to date there has been no fire this year which necessitated calling out the fire company.

Of interest to the weather fans will be the recording of the number of fires each month.

During the intense cold wave, which gripped this section in the latter part of January and February last year, there were fewer fires than would be expected. January had five fires to its credit, and February—the month when the cold snap was the longest and most intense—was credited with two.

Two months, July and September, drew a blank, there being no fires during those months.

Six fires—the high water mark—were listed for December.

Other months and the number of fires were: March, four; April, one; May, four; June, one; August, three; October, one, and November, four.

Only 12 of the 31 fires were located within the County Seat.

For attending every fire, Elwood Youells receives the honor.

Another consistent fire fighter—who recently moved to Mechanicsville, is George Hansell, formerly of South Clinton street, with 19 to his credit. Robert Diehl, borough employe, reported for 18, and Assistant Chief Frank Stover has 16 in his victory bag.

Jay Richer, former Doylestown High School athlete, and Henry Lancaster, did their bit by fighting 15 of the 31 fires.

CORRECTING NATURE'S MISTAKES

The New York commissioner of correction has offered prison inmates the service of a plastic surgeon. The theory is that many, afflicted with anthropoid features are prevented by their very appearance from seeking social regeneration. Merely because they look tough, it appears, these unfortunates are self-condemned to act tough, with unfortunate consequences both for themselves and society.

The idea is one that obviously merits a wider application, for how many cases there also are in what we might call the civilian population where a surgical alteration of countenance would have beneficial results all around!

Take the chap who looks like Napoleon. And the many, in both leagues, who look like ball players. And the fellow who looks like what a poet is supposed to look like.

The possibilities are infinite, but we single out for final mention the man who looks like a member of congress and therefore, too often, is one.

HE SAVED THOUSANDS

In New York recently a great and learned man died who made the human race lastingly indebted to him because he was able to think logically and clearly about simple things: He was Dr. Theobald Smith, president of the Rockefeller Institute of Medical Research.

One of Dr. Smith's earliest achievements was the discovery of a way to combat "Texas fever" and save the cattle herds of the West. He proved that getting rid of the ticks that infested the cattle, got rid of the fever. Out of his experiments came proof of the theory that immunity against disease can be established by vaccination with prepared serum.

Out of the proof that the bacteria that cause disease can be made to produce a cure for the disease, came the antitoxin treatment. And that discovery yearly is saving the lives of thousands of school children who otherwise would fall victims to the dreaded diphtheria.

AUTOMOBILE CASUALTIES

Reports of the 1934 motor car casualties indicate that between 35,000 and 36,000 persons were killed and nearly a million injured in 900,000 accidents. The figures are like those of war.

"Terrible!" exclaims the reader, "but what can we do about it? We may do away with war but we certainly aren't going to do without automobiles."

True, but may we not overdo this what-can-we-do-about-it-attitude? The better frame of mind for the public is, "Something must be done about it!"

Something can be done to remove known road hazards and to make sure that machines that are unfit to be driven and drivers unfit to drive are kept off the highways.

The New York public library has closed its reading rooms to puzzle solvers. It still offers works on economics, though, for consumption off the premises.

A stranded circus is putting up in a Rutland (Vt.) armory. Vermont, according to the November returns, is one of the few refuges where an elephant is safe.

Rheumatism Pains Stop in 7 to 10 Minutes

Prove it FREE

When a man has rheumatism so badly that it is downright agony even to move, and then he seems suddenly to regain complete freedom from pain, the chances are that he has learned the secret of ROO-MO-RUB.

Thousands of other people—by word of mouth recommendation—seem to have found complete relief through this new discovery. So far as the painful part of rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, neuralgia, lameness of muscles, bones and joints is concerned, you may forget it with the first application of ROO-MO-RUB. Relief actually comes in 7-10 minutes. Chronic cases and those unusually severe will of course require continued treatment for a while, but isn't it wonderful that the relief you seek is now so easily obtained?

ROO-MO-RUB is a new discovery. It is a real scientific preparation. You no longer need to dose the system with violent or nauseating drugs. The treatment is applied directly to the part affected—externally. You literally feel the pain leaving.

Mr. Wm. Gressel, 1138 N. Hope St., Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have for many years suffered from muscular rheumatism and have tried many different treatments for this ailment but got no relief. Your ROO-MO-RUB was recommended to me by a friend who used this preparation for rheumatism, and I purchased a bottle from our druggist. After the 3rd application I found almost immediate relief and my pains disappeared entirely. It is really the greatest remedy I have ever used and I will never be without a bottle of ROO-MO-RUB from now on."

FIRST REMEDY THAT STOPPED PAIN
I have been using your ROO-MO-RUB and found it very good for rheumatism in the joints of my arm. I had it for about four months and your remedy is helping me more than any other medicine I ever used. I am subject to muscular rheumatism and your ROO-MO-RUB is the first remedy that relieved me so quickly of the pain. Your remedy is really a Godsend and I am indeed thankful for what it has done for me."
May Path, 746 Sears St., Philadelphia, Pa.

FREE PROOF

We urge only that you make this test. ROO-MO-RUB is now obtainable at any drug store in the 50c and $1.00 large family size. Buy it today. Use one-half the bottle and if you are not amazed and delighted with the results, return the remaining half to the druggist and he will refund your money.

HIGH SCHOOL QUINTET DROPS SECOND GAME

A thoroughly discouraged quintet from Bristol High dropped its second game of the season to a stronger Doylestown five by the score of 27-15. This game was played on the former's home court last evening.

It was George Large and Ted Klemp who were the big guns for the Doylestown club, although their mates all seemed to be in fine scoring shape. Large accounted for 8 tallies, while Klemp with only one field goal made seven points.

"Jim" Spencer with a pair of double deckers and one conversion led the Cardinal and Gray scorers, followed by "Walt" Fagan with three points.

Starting with the opening whistle the Yellow and Blue ran up an 8-2 advantage in the initial canto. They followed this with nine more points in the second period to lead 17-4 at half-time.

In the second half the coach, "Bill" Wolfe, rushed in his reserves to battle the Cardinal and Gray and the Bristol five made seven points in this period. But Wolfe rushed back his regulars and they easily stopped all scoring threats of the home-towners.

It seems as if the Cardinal and Gray has not yet found a winning combination and Coach Dougherty is shaking his lineup all around to find it.

In the preliminary game the Doylestown J. V. defeated the J. V. of Bristol, 24-14, in a romp for the Yellow and Blue.

On Friday the Bunnies meet their traditional foe—the Bulldogs of Morrisville, on the up-river court.

ST. ANN'S FIVE TO PLAY MAGNOLIA A. A. TONIGHT

The undefeated St. Ann's A. A. basketball five will be the underdogs tonight as the quintet stacks up against the fast Magnolia A. A. team in the Dreamland Casino, Orthodox and Millnor streets, Bridesburg.

A large crowd is expected to leave the local organization tonight and follow the Purple and Gold on its victory streak. The fans are anxious to see the localities perform on a foreign floor and will be cheering for a victory. Tickets have been sold for the past week by the St. Ann's members.

Manager Spadacino is undecided as to whom he will use in his starting lineup, but all indications point to the following: "Eddie" Roe and "Pete" Bornice, forwards; "Bud" Tullo, center; "Buddy" Aita and "Ray" Pico, guards. This is the same quintet with the help of Spadacino himself that bowled over the Disston team a week ago.

WRESTLING BOMBSHELL TO EXPLODE AT THE ARENA

TRENTON, Jan. 9.—Sandor Szabo versus Boris Demitroff—that is the spluttering wrestling bombshell that will explode at the Trenton Arena tonight.

With the popular and handsome Szabo signed up, Johnny Ipp, Arena matchmaker, sought an opponent from last Wednesday's card. Demitroff slammed huge Floyd Marshall into no uncertain defeat in such a sensational manner that Ipp wasted no time in getting his signature to oppose Szabo. The willing Bulgarian muscle-stretcher took the match without any delay.

Szabo has been vacationing and campaigning in Florida and is in the best shape of his career. Demitroff started his campaign at the Arena in a fast draw with Tony Colesano. Then came successive victories against Steve Znoski, Ernie Stephens and Marshall. Beating the rough and tough villains has been Boris' specialty and if any wrestler earned a spot in the windup, Demitroff is the man.

A clever and capable grappler, and colorful too, Boris knows all the tricks and answers. He is about the best man that Szabo has been called upon to wrestle here.

An exceptionally strong supporting card will precede the main event. Wee Willie Davis, devastating hill-billy, tangles with Frank Bronowicz, ever popular Pole. Al Bisignano, sensational youngster, starts along the comeback path against the favorite crowd-baiter, Vanka Zelezniak and another sterling newcomer, Andy Rasher, of Indiana, makes his bow against daring Stan Sokolis.

Ipp reports a heavy advance sale. The first bout will start at 8:30.

Condon Identifies Hauptmann As the Mysterious "John"

"I received this letter by messenger on Saturday night after inserting the advertisement. I remember all things by connection and relation. I teach that way and that is the way I remember things."

Wilentz started to interrupt this answer but defense counsel insisted on letting Dr. Condon explain his system of remembering things.

Wilentz then read the letter which directed Condon to go to a hot-dog stand near the end of the Bronx subway line and instructed him to follow the directions in a note to be found under a rock there.

"Did you follow the instructions in the letter?" Wilentz asked. "I did," Condon replied. "I started out within about 15 minutes after the letter came with Al Reich," Condon said. "We drove to the hot-dog stand and identified it from a picture Wilentz handed him."

Hauptmann's pale face took on a look of anxiety as Condon's testimony went on. His lawyers were deadly serious. Some persons may have laughed at Jafsie once, but there was no mirth in the faces of jurors or the defendant as they listened to him today. He was proving an excellent witness for the State.

Condon went on with his narrative: "I went to the hot-dog stand and looked for a stone. I found the stone and there was a note under it."

Wilentz handed him another piece of crumpled paper.

"Is that the note?"

"Yes, that is the note I found under the stone."

Wilentz read the note to the jury which directed Condon to go to Woodlawn Cemetery.

Then Condon went on: "I took that letter and read it. We went to the cemetery and I turned to Reich who was in the car and said, 'I don't see anyone here'. We sat in the car for five minutes or so. We then crossed the street in the car, in accordance with the instructions in the note. We proceeded along the fence of Woodlawn Cemetery until we came to a triangular opening in the gate."

FLEMINGTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—(INS)—Dr. John F. "Jafsie" Condon moves into the spotlight today.

The 72-year-old Brox educator will take the stand at the trial of Bruno Richard Hauptmann and describe his mysterious activities as intermediary in the Lindbergh baby kidnapping.

He is expected to point an accusing finger at the defendant, Hauptmann, identifying him as the mysterious "John" to whom he paid the $50,000 ransom in St. Raymond's Cemetery in the Bronx on the night of April 2, 1932.

If Condon "puts the finger" on Hauptmann he will be the third witness to do so. Yesterday Joseph Perrone, taxi driver of the Bronx, strode from the witness chair and, placing his hand on Hauptmann's shoulder, said: "This is the man!" He had been asked by the prosecution to identify the person who gave him a Lindbergh ransom note to deliver to Condon. When Perrone put his hand on the prisoner, Hauptmann glared at him coldly and said: "You're a liar!"

The other man to "put the finger" on Hauptmann was 87-year-old Amann Hochmuth, who lives with his son-in-law at Hopewell, N. J.; he put his hand on Hauptmann's knee and said he was the man he saw "staring like he saw a ghost" from a dirty green automobile with a ladder in it, as the car turned into Frederick Lane on the Lindbergh estate at noon on March 1, 1932—about ten hours before the kidnapping. After Hochmuth made the identification, Hauptmann turned to his wife and remarked: "The old man is crazy."

Dr. Condon gave the impression this morning that he is perfectly willing to tell the jury—and finally the world—his own story of the negotiations with the kidnapper, or kidnappers.

The ground word for "Jafsie's" testimony was being laid by Al Reich, former heavyweight pugilist, who is both a friend and bodyguard of Condon. Reich resumes the stand as the first witness today. He scored an important point for the prosecution late yesterday when he said he saw Condon take a note from beneath a stone outside an abandoned "hot dog" stand at the end of Jerome avenue, Bronx, subway line, the night "Jafsie" met the mysterious "John" in Woodlawn Cemetery and discussed ransom.

Condon is expected to say that this man to whom he talked that night was Hauptmann.

The defense is preparing to subject Condon to a relentless cross-examination. It would not be surprising if Edward J. Reilly, chief defense counsel, makes the basis of his examination a counter attack on "Jafsie."

auditors of accounts; and Dominick Russo, sergeant-at-arms.

At a meeting of the Bucks County Federation of Italian Clubs, held at the same time, Nicholas Pascale was elected president; Michael Fondi, secretary; and Joseph Millodge, treasurer. The purpose of the Federation is to help all Italians in securing United States citizenship papers, and to promote the interests of the Italian people in Bucks County.

Herbert R. La Rue was elected president of the Morrisville Roosevelt Democratic Club at a meeting held here. Other officers elected for 1935 were: Walter Phillips, vice-president; Charles Hoffman, recording secretary;

Lewis A. Howell, treasurer; and Joseph Mara, trustee for three years.

A committee, composed of William Provost, Edward Sutterley and John G. Bleasdale, was appointed to secure more information on the Bucks County Democratic League, and to report its findings to the club at the next regular meeting.

Herbert La Rue and Edward Mullen were appointed as representatives of a joint committee for an Inaugural Ball to be given at Bristol on January 16th and 17th. The ball will be conducted by the Democratic League of lower Bucks County.

The committee on the removal of the West Bridge street canal bridge again reported that it awaited the appointment of the new secretary of highways before taking up this matter.

The local Roosevelt Club will hold a card party on January 4th at the club headquarters on Chambers street.

—so far as we know tobacco was first used about 400 years ago

—throughout the years what one thing has given so much pleasure..so much satisfaction

They came looking for gold
... but they found tobacco

...and tobacco has been like gold ever since!
The tobacco raised in Virginia and exchanged for goods helped the struggling colonists to get a foothold when they came to America.

Later on, it was tobacco that helped to clothe and feed Washington's brave army at Valley Forge.

Today it is tobacco that helps—more than any other commodity raised in this country—to pay the expense of running our Government.

In the fiscal year 1933-34 the Federal Government collected $425,000,000 from the tax on tobacco. Most of this came from cigarettes—six cents tax on every package of twenty.

Yes, the cigarette helps a lot—and it certainly gives men and women a lot of pleasure.

Smokers have several reasons for liking Chesterfields. For one thing, Chesterfields are milder. For another thing, they taste better. They Satisfy.
